RACING CARS STIR SPORTING BLOOD

of constables, were always ready in case of emergency.

The fair was closed last night by a brilliant display of fireworks and the grand portrayal of the fall of historic Fort Arthur, free attractions to all. The closing scenes took place without incident or trouble. As the hours grew on toward midnight, the spectators began to thin, tired out with a week's pleasure, and more or less out of pocket for enjoyment's sake, the visiting fakers began to pull down their tents, draw up their stakes, count out their week's earnings, and prepare for home. By to-night they will all have gone on their way, leaving the vast parade ground as quiet and deserted as a country churchyard at night.

Race Events Were During

The motorcycle and automobile races were the most spectacular and thrilling of all the events presented. The track was not wet enough to hinder the movers against time or to cause accident. The fifty-mile race was an example of the daring lengths to which man may go and of the strides in racing machines. The gentleman who made the first event on the program was a ten-mile motorcycle race, given under the sanction of the American Automobile Association and the sanction of the Federation of Motorcyclists of America.

There were seven entries, first being won by S. G. Johnston, with an Indian, and second by J. Boyd Anderson, of Elizabeth City, N. C., with a Ewin Indian. An Indian, ridden by one of the Johnstons, led for the first few laps with a hair-curling burst of speed, but was forced to leave the track by the snapping of a tire. Then S. G. Johnston took the lead with the other machine, making the turns and coming down the stretches with a speed so fearful-looking that women shouldered. The others were left far behind.

hind, and hardly figured in the running. The winner's time was 13:56 2-3. In the second event, a ten-mile race for stock runabouts of twenty-four-horse power or under, the Ford model "S" roadster led off, with C. G. Montgomery's Franklin runabout running close behind. But the Buick runabout, Model 10 (owned by Dr. S. T. Price), entered by the Foster Motor Car Company, and steered by Driver Everts, overhauled the field in the seventh lap, and set the pace. This machine finished first, making the run in 16:55 1-2. C. G. Montgomery's Franklin runabout came second, and W. M. Batten's Ford Model "S" finished third.

The third event was a fine exhibition of speed-making in the ten-mile race for stock runabouts and tourabouts of 24-horse power, the six-cylinder Ford leading all the way. The Buick Model "S" was the only other entry. The first car finished in good style; time, 14:04.

Event No. 5 was ten miles, for stock touring cars costing $2,500 or under. The Ford Model "S" roadster, entered by the Gordon Motor Car Company, and driven by E. J. Ray, led the field from start to finish, twice lapping the white steamer entered by B. A. Blenner, and hauling rapidly away from the Foster Motor Car Company's Buick. The Jackson, entered by the Abner Pope Company, was badly missing, on account of the style of machine and the condition of the track. The Chalmers-Detroit came in first, followed by the Buick, making the run in 15:18.

The ten-mile race for stock touring cars costing $2,501 and over, was not pulled off, but the race was awarded to the Stevens-Duryea four-cylinder car, entered by the Gordon Motor Company, and driven by E. J. Ray. A White steamer had been entered by B. A. Blenner, but he did not come up within the time prescribed.

On a Fifty-Mile Run. The fifty-mile race, which was scheduled fourth on the card, was reserved for the last, being the best and most exciting event on the program. The finest bit of work was performed by the Stevens-Duryea six-cylinder touring car, which, if it had not twice broken down, would easily have won the race.

The Buick touring car, model F, took the lead, and never lost it during the whole course, though its practice was at times seriously threatened by the Buick, model 10 (owned by Dr. Brill), and by the Stevens-Duryea car. Some part of the gasoline engine in the last machine broke after the first few laps, and the driver lost three miles by the mishap. Everybody thought he was out for the running, but he quickly repaired the damage and then gave the audience the prettiest exhibition of speed it had seen during the day. Ray made the race.

He overhauled the leaders one by one, and was in a fair way to win after he had made up all but a little more than a mile, when he broke down again. The second accident ruined his chances for the cup, but he stayed in the race, and swept round the track like a flying demon. The Maxwell touring car was never in the running, covering only about thirty miles of the race.

The Buick Model F, entered by the Foster Motor Car Company, never lost its lead, and Dr. Price's Buick, entered by the same company, finished second. First time was one hour eleven minutes and forty-four seconds; second time, one hour twelve minutes and forty-one seconds. Considering the track, the time made was declared to be excellent, and was encouraging to the racers and their friends.

The officials of the course were H. A. Mayer, assistant to the renowned Fred Wagner, starter, and James G. Dany, referee, both of Baltimore. R. F. Kaehler, representing the Ford agency, declared the races to be among the best he had ever witnessed.

Horticulture

G. E. Murrell, Fontella, Bedford county, was awarded the first premium of $100 for the largest and best county display of fruits in the division east of the Blue Ridge. He had sixty-five varieties of apples on exhibition, besides pears, peaches, grapes, quinces and nuts.

James Dickie, of Massie's Mills (Neel county), was given first premium for his fine Grimes' Golden apples, and second premium for Penneck and Pumpkin Sweet varieties. Miss Dickie was awarded first premium for her Lady Finger apples, and second premium for her Golden Delicious.

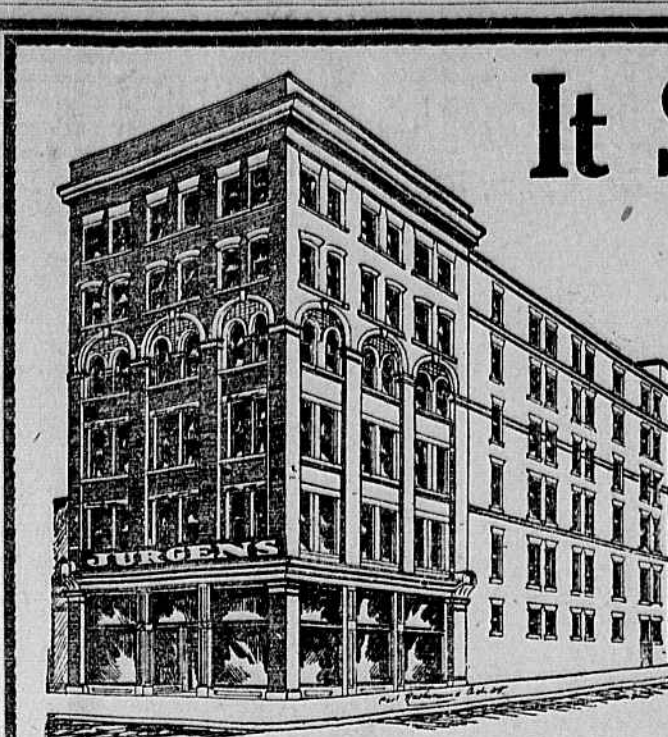

Mr. Watson, of Nisnored Hall, Bath county, was awarded the second premium of $50 for the largest county exhibit of fruit from the division west of the Blue Ridge. The fruit was all collected from Augusta county. Mrs. Watson had a second exhibit of fruit collected in the same division, which was ruled out by the judge for not meeting requirements. To number of varieties, etc. If this collection had met the views of the judge as to number of varieties, etc., Mrs. Watson would have stood to draw both first and second premiums. The awarding of second premium, instead of first, on one collection was in the nature of a surprise, but this was largely in the control of the judge of fruit.

It is understood that the matter of awarding these premiums has been opened, and that the result will probably be the awarding of both premiums to Mrs. Watson, as justice would seem to demand.

Premiums on fruit were awarded on individual plates (not embraced in collection as follows: George E. Murrell, Fontella, Va., first premium on each of the following varieties of apples: Roxbury Russet, Golden Russet, Cannon, Lenoxer, Hoover, Bonum and Missouri Pippin; also a second premium on each of the following: Bellflower, Paradise, Wood's Favorite and Rebel. On Bartlett and Seckel pears a second premium was awarded him on each.

The Albemarle Orchard Company, Charlottesville, Va., was awarded first premium on each of the following apples: Stayman, Winesap, and Shockley, and second premium on York, Imperial, Limber Twig and Jonathan. The same company was awarded first premium for Keiffer pears, and second premium for Japan pears.

Dr. Lapsley, of Ashland, Va., was awarded first premium for Fall Cheese and Mammoth Black Twig apples, and second premium for Grimes' Golden and Northern Spy apples. The fruit

Last Spiel from Midway.

Up to a few minutes before the time to make a start for some other place all of the barkers of the Midway were as busily engaged in calling the crowd as they were on the first day of the show. "We are all going," they said, "come in and get another look. You will not see us again for twelve months, but we are coming back."

As soon as the last of the spectators filed out of the tents, busy employees began taking up stakes and loading the wagon trains for the depots. Those running the little stands hurriedly counted their money and started off with what belongings they had brought to the grounds. The sellers of souvenirs made a last effort to get rid of their wares and pulled out for the city, in every case carrying a much smaller burden than when they came out. A continuous string of high-grade cattle and horses, swathed in blankets to protect their precious hides, passed along the Midway en route for the green fields of their native heath. Not a few of them had many trophies closely guarded by their attendants.

As compared with the hustle and bustle that has been rife for the last week, the grounds will present a bare and desolate appearance. After the night's work there will only remain here and there any sign of life, for show people show in the day and do what moving there is by the light of the stars. All were in the best of humor, and were unanimous in saying that this has been the best fair that Virginia has ever seen. There remains set for Monday, has been postponed until November 4th. The postponement was made on account of Marshall McCormick, counsel for the defense, being called to Porto Rico by the critical illness of his son. Mr. Brown, his doctor, came here to-day, and Judge Woods agreed to the postponement.

Mr. Brown, his doctor, came here to-day, and Judge Woods agreed to the postponement.

Lord Bacon Said, "Digest"

This is the Secret of Life in Business or in Health.

It is claimed that Lord Bacon struck the prime keynote of life when he wrote, "Some books are to be tasted, others to be swallowed, and some few to be chewed and digested." If you swallow and taste and don't digest and chew, nature cannot give you health, for you do not furnish the ammunition.

Forty's Dyspepsia Tablets contain in pure, concentrated form the essences which, when they reach the stomach, turn dyspeptic conditions into those of healthy digestion.

These little tablets are dissolved in the mouth by saliva; they mix with this, and are passed down into the stomach, where they are to be tasted, to work upon the food and digest it. They are many times more powerful than the work of digestive organs, and thus replenish nature with those juices which sickness, abuse or wrongful eating have exhausted.

The world's best chemists in Europe and America agree on the ingredients best adapted to perfect digestion. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are these ingredients presented to the stomach in the most pleasant and lasting form.

Powders and liquids soon lose their effectiveness through chemical action and decay. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are made under terrific pressure, and their qualities are thus made lasting. Forty thousand physicians prescribe and use these tablets, and every drug-gist sells them. Price, 50c. Send us your name and address, and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Building, Marshall, Mich.
